By Sara Davis

When I was 16 I wrote a bucket list. This was a list of things that I wanted to do in my lifetime. One of the things on my bucket list was to do a skydive.

Two years ago I spent three months travelling around South America. It was a great experience. We went climbing, hiking and swimming in different parts. One of the most amazing things we saw was Iguazu Falls. One day, we were relaxing in a hostel in Brazil, having breakfast. My friend suddenly noticed an advert on the wall saying "skydive over the Falls today!" We looked at each other and decided it was time to do something crazy.

That afternoon, we were picked up and taken to the Skydive Centre. We put on our harnesses and helmets and we were given some instructions, no special outfit was necessary. After signing a few papers we were on our way to the plane! Suddenly we were 3,000 metres above the ground. Luckily, I was strapped to an instructor so I didn't have to worry about anything; I just had to enjoy myself. He asked me if I was ready to fall from the plane, but before I had time to answer, I felt the wind rushing against my face.

This was definitely one of the scariest but most exhilarating experiences of my life. The sensation of falling from so high was amazing and the adrenaline rush was crazy. I wouldn't do it again, but I would love to try other extreme sports such as bungee jumping.

TIME TO CELEBRATE

Every fall, Canadian and American families gather for a day centred around community, food and giving thanks – the day of Thanksgiving. It combines the traditions of different groups of people. Travellers and migrants from England brought different religious traditions to the United States and Canada. Several celebrations are claimed as the first Thanksgiving. The best known is the celebration held by the pilgrims in what is now Plymouth, Massachusetts after their journey across the Atlantic Ocean. Later, settlers celebrated their successful harvest in a new land by holding feasts.

In Canada, Thanksgiving is celebrated on the second Monday in October. In the United States, it is on the fourth Thursday in November. For Americans and Canadians, it is a time to spend with loved ones and express gratitude for the year that has passed.

Thanksgiving is also about food. Thanksgiving dinner traditionally includes roast turkey, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce and, for dessert, apple, pumpkin or pecan pies. Beyond food and gratitude, there are some unexpected sides to the American and Canadian holiday. One of these is football. From: laucs30@gmail.comTo: allan2020@gmail.comSubject: Birthday party

Dear Allan.

I'm really sorry you couldn't come to my surprise birthday party last week. Oh God! It was a really wonderful night. I never thought my friends would make me a party. I talked to my mom and dad about it, and they were really happy and excited. My friends told me that we were going to a bar and going dancing, but that was a lie. They had planned the party in Fabio's house. It was a real surprise.

We sang karaoke, we ate and drank a lot, I really had a good time with my friends, I was really thankful. I thought you were going to be there, but my friends told me you were away. My friends invited my boyfriend, but he couldn't be at the party either, he had to work. At the end we were not many people, we were like 8 friends. We had a lot of fun together. We are planning to continue with these activities, I mean making surprise parties for all our friends. I don't really know whose birthday is next. Is it yours, Allan? Let us know because we have to start planning the activity. Write to you soon.

Kind regards,

Laura
